To Whom It May Concern

It is with great appreciation that I acknowledge the impactful collaboration between Daughters of Bharat-founded by Ms. Siya Gupta alongside Ms. Dhruvika Singh and Mr. Harshvardhan Singh Shekhawat - and our ASHA workers during one of our flagship training camps in Jaipur, which brought over 500 workers together. Through this partnership, Daughters of Bharat conducted engaging and well-structured workshops and distributed their "Know Your Rights" booklets to 500 women, adding significant value to our programme. While ASHA workers focused on spreading awareness and building grassroots connections, Daughters of Bharat brought in women's rights, leadership, and practical skill development. This blend of local experience and youthful innovation created a powerful and holistic initiative.

The sessions conducted by the team also covered essential topics such as legal rights, financial literacy, and public speaking. What made these workshops stand out was the clarity and accessibility of the information empowering women not just with knowledge, but with the confidence to apply it in their daily lives and communities. Their booklet, simple yet comprehensive and essential, will continue to serve as a valuable reference long after the sessions ended. The professionalism, innovation, and dedication displayed by Daughters of Bharat team have set a high benchmark for collaborative initiatives.

On behalf of the ASHA workers, I extend my sincere appreciation to Daughters of Bharat for their contribution, and I look forward to future initiatives that further our shared mission of empowering women at every level of society.
