

To Whom It May Concern,

It is with great appreciation that I recognize the outstanding work of Daughters of Bharat, founded by Ms. Siya Gupta alongside Ms. Dhruvika Singh and Mr. Harshvardhan Singh Shekhawat, in empowering women and girls across construction sites in Jaipur and surrounding areas. Their initiative brought crucial awareness of women's legal rights to around 500 participants in our construction sites: Manglam Westin Spa and Resorts, Manglam Pinkwalk Shopping Mall and Manglam Rambagh Jagatpura.

During these sessions, the high school students conducted detailed workshops explaining women's rights, practical steps to take when rights are violated, and reinforcing the use of official helpline numbers. In addition, Daughters of Bharat distributed concise yet highly effective booklets, providing a tangible reference that participants could carry with them and consult whenever needed.

The professionalism, dedication, and clarity displayed by the Daughters of Bharat team are commendable. By closing gaps in awareness and empowering women on construction sites, they have not only educated but also inspired confidence and self-advocacy among the women and girls.

I extend my sincere appreciation to Daughters of Bharat for their exceptional work and look forward to seeing their continued efforts in empowering women across Rajasthan and beyond.
